Student Creating Their Own Essay Assignment (1)

During study leave, students may want to write extra essays. However, teachers might not always be available to provide timely feedback. No worries—Penso is here to help!

Students can set their own essay topics and receive detailed feedback and grading from Penso within minutes.

If teachers wish to allow their students to create their own topics and practice writing outside of class, please WhatsApp 5110 1757 to enable this feature.

How to Create a Writing Task

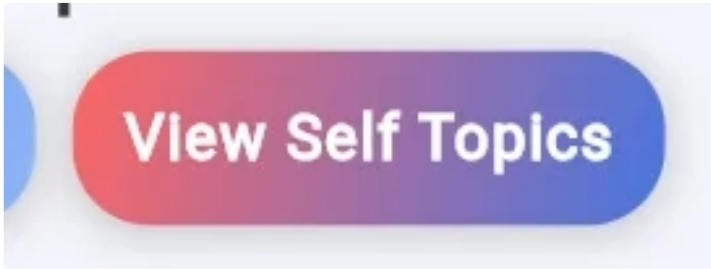
1. Go to the "Essays" tab and click on "View Self Topics."



2. Click the "Create New Topic" button.

Create a new essay topic

3. In the pop-up window, freely create your writing task.

Creating a New Topic

After clicking the "Create New Topic" button, you can enter the relevant information for the AI to understand the nature of this essay.

- Fill in or select all relevant fields:
  - Essay Tags | Essay Topic | Essay Type | Post Writing Report Language Selection

- Pre-Writing Guidance (Optional)
  - Penso's Pre-Writing Guidance is an optional feature that helps teachers & students provide clear instructions to assist students in writing well-structured essays. This feature covers the key aspects of essay writing.
  - Click "Generate a Pre-Writing Guide," and Penso AI will generate pre-writing guidance based on the provided essay topic.

Pre-writing guide - Essential planning tips provided by teachers to students

Pre-Writing Guide for All Students (Optional)

1. Analyze Text Type and Provide Tips

Purpose: To inform and persuade the principal about current school issues and propose solutions.

Audience: The principal of your school, an authoritative figure concerned with school management.

Register: Formal and respectful language.

Tone and Style: Persuasive, respectful, and constructive; maintain a solution-oriented approach.

Tips:

- Address the principal respectfully.
- Clearly state the issues and provide evidence.
- Propose practical and feasible solutions.
- Be concise and precise in your writing.
- Use a polite and professional tone.